

Tāhunanui sawdust

operation complete

Nelson City Council Kaumātua led a karakia marking the successful completion of the removal of contaminated material from Tāhunanui Back Beach last Friday, 13 December.

The ceremony was attended by iwi, elected members, council staff and representatives from the Ministry for the Environment, along with contractors Tonkin + Taylor, Nelmac Downer Group and DS Solutions.

The remediation work was completed on time and under budget. A total of 10,750 tonnes of contaminated material was removed from the site, the equivalent of 82 adult blue whales!

A low-level dune has been reinstated, and the new car park is open.

The restoration of the dune will take a number of years, but the first stage of planting has been completed with further planting planned for April 2025 and 2026.

Nelson City Council directed to fluoridate water

Why is fluoride being added to Nelson's water supply?

In July 2022, then Director-General of Health Dr Ashley Bloomfield directed 14 local authorities, including Nelson, to add fluoride to their water supplies. The direction required Council to have this in place by April 2024. A subsequent extension of time was granted to allow fluoridation to be in place by 31 December 2024.

The Act states it is an offence for a drinking water supplier to ignore the Director-General of Health's direction. This offence has a maximum penalty of $200,000, plus $10,000 a day while the offence continues.

How much fluoride will be added?

The direction sets a target concentration of fluoride between 0.7 and 1.0mg/L. Council will be setting the level at 0.85mg/L. The maximum acceptable value under the Drinking Water Standards for New Zealand is 1.5mg/L.

When will this start?

Commissioning and testing of new equipment started on 6 December 2024. The operation will be completed by 31 December 2024.

Will Council test fluoride levels?

Water quality is monitored through a rigorous independent testing programme, and fluoride will be included in this testing, with analysis carried out by an independent third party.

What is the cost to fluoridate?

The Ministry of Health will fully subsidise the capital cost for fluoride infrastructure up to a maximum of $909,000. Operational budgets are included in Council's Long Term Plan.

Strawbridge Square upgrade

Work will begin on 13 January 2025 to upgrade the stormwater network around Strawbridge Square, as flooding can occur in heavy rainfall in the corner of the carpark. Upgrading the size of stormwater pipes will reduce the chance of parking, protecting properties in the area and making sure water flows where it needs to go. There will be varying traffic management plans in place as the work progresses.
